

Reality - the house stays stationary and the ground moves under it.

As engineers see it - the ground stays stationary and the house is pushed.

The result is the same.